Kont. Rant .- This odd name to many, bough not more so than ru-ta-ba-ga only a few years since. But whatever may be thought of the name, the thing itself is excellent. With us it takes the place of both cabbages and turnips, and is decidedly superior to either of those articles-to our taste and digestion. Several subscri-Proprietors) until arrearages are paid bers have enquired ' what it's like ? ' ' how it's grown ? ' how it's cooked? ' ' how it tastes ? Answer - Kohl rabi is a kind of turnip cabbage -- a cross between the two. Imagine a short cabbage stalk with a round turnip upon the top of it, and about a dozen small, long-stemmed leaves growing out from as many points of the turnip, and you have an idea of ' what it's like'. It may be grown precisely as turnips and quite as easily. If wanted early, start the plants in a hot bed, and transfer them to the open ground as soon as danger of frost is past. It grows faster than cabbages, and is even more hardy. We sowed seed in the open ground where they were to grow without transplanting, on the 19th day of last May, and commenced cooking on the 1st of August. The heads are (Aug 15th) from 3 to 7 inches in diameter. To cook them we sever the heads from the stalk, remove the leaves, cut into quarters, or into six or eight pieces, according to the size of the head, and boil in water until cooked through, which may be known by trying them with a fork. They are served up with drawn butter, or cream gravy, similar to turnips. They are sweeter than calbbage, and more tender, and less strong to the faste than most varieties of turnips. We find them more agreeable and far more digestible than either cabbages or turnips.

American Agriculturist. [We have in our office one of the above, which was grown on the farm of Mr. John Rodgers in Middletown.]

THE AUTUMN FAIRS -The season is approaching for our annual exhibitions of agricultural and horticultural products --These are the most useful and interesting of our rural bolidays. Here convene enthusiastic and skillful cultivators, from far and near, to compare opinions, to discuss unsettled questions, to glean curious information of all sorts, and to win prizes! Such gatherings operate favorably in many respects. They furnish a season of rest from labor and of relaxation from the daily cares of home life. They bring out the leading minds engaged in rural occupations, whose zeal and whose success inspire others with new enthusiasm in their chosen pursuit. They lead to forming new acquaintances, and brighten the links of old friendships.

But some persons, as we happen to know, return from active participation in Fairs because having competed a few times for premiums without success, they think it useless to try again. To such we would say : Don't think the great object to be sought in attending fairs is to win premiums. It is a higher and better object to give and to gain information, to give and to gain new impulses, to form new frindships and to confirm old ones. Dear Sirs, go to the fair, then, by all means .-Take with you whatever excellent product you may have, and 'let it take its chance in the competition for reward. But do you be sure and go, Go with a glad and free heart, thankful for the blessings of a kind Providence, and let the light of your happy countenance diffuse joy over all you meet .- Am Agriculturist.

SAVE SEED CORN CAREFULLY .- In remarking upon the failure of the corn to come up last spring, we gave as a principal reason, that much of the corn was put up last Fall in an imperfectly dried state. This fact should be remembered now .-Not only should extra care be taken to have all corn designed for planting next Spring thoroughly ripened and dried, but the best ears should be selected. Those ripening first, are quite likely to produce the earliest ripening corn.

The largest ears should be taken, and those from the most prolific stalks. Those which are perfect, having the kernels well filled out at both ends, should in all cases

These matters are quite too often overlooked. We have known many farmers who have expended five to ten dollars or more per acre in preparing and planting a piece of ground, from which they have gathered scarcely half a crop, simply from want of a shillings worth of time in selecting and preparing the best seed, and this, in a greater or less degree, is too much the case generally. It is like that other piece of bad economy practiced by multitudes, who send their children to the district school a year, at an expense of thirty to forty dollars for clothing, teachers &c., and yet loose half the benefit to be derived, because they withhold one extra shilling for a suitable book.

We urge every farmer to go over his corn-fields himself, as soon as the crop is ripened, and gather out the kind of ears we have indicated, and then either husk and store them away in a dry room, or go back to the old-fashioned plan of stripping down the hucks, braiding them together, so that the seed ears may be hung up in the attic or other sale, dry place.

The above said act is voted and allowed; any former act or clause in this colony to the contrary notwithstanding,'

Seven years having elapsed since the people met and resumed the government, under the charter of 1693, during all which time it had met with no obstruction from England-those formerly opposed to the measure now readily gave up their loubts and cheerfuly joined in the administration and legislation of the State .-Welter Clarke, Gov. and Walter Newbery Assistant, who both refused in 1689 were now again appointed and accepted the asfice they before refused. It is evident the people generally had acquired confidence n the government and the separation of the assembly into an upper and lower house, each with a negative on the other, as to all acts of legislation, was an evident improvement in the government : although the measure had often been suggested before, it was now, for the first time, effected and the government in its frame and practice has not materially been aftered since. The Assembly was called by the Governor's warrant and met the let day of July, 1696. A duty was laid on Madeira wine of 126 the pipe; on Fayall wine 10s the pipe; and on brandy and all other distilled spirituous liquors from foreign places one penny per gallon. The Governor was appointed Collector or receiver of the said duties and 10 per cent, was allowed him for his compensation on the amount to be received.

A bond of one thousand nounds was required of any person to whom a commission was granted for an armed vessel : except such as might be fitted by the colony. against the common enemy.

PLATO says one of the things which most contribute to the retarding of a growth in wit in man ta, his bad education in diet. For which reason he advises that we should give to our children delloate meats and drinks, such as will not disturb the stomach and incline them to scrept the will rather then the good; and the Greeks, who were a remarkably discreet people, particularly in bringing up their children to be wise and witty, applied to GALAN, the wiscet of physicians, for advice. He did not heditate to recommend the use of the milk of goats, to the exclusion of that of all other and male, and, less it should curdle and promote indigestion, he added honey, and for this reason : milk composed of but three elements choese, whey and butter. Cheese answers to the earth, whey to the water, and butter to the air, and honey, which is hot and dry, when added, represents fire. This compound he recommended them to use freely, and, above all things, to avoid a vineger diet; which wentd give a rough edge to that which, while it should be keen, should also be smooth.

But this regimen, after all, was found to have its drawbacks, for although it will most assuredly make one supremely witty, it also has a tenderay to make one less hardy, and, therefore, less healthy and so Hippocharks, to remedy the evil and secure the greatest number of with without shortening the lives of the pupils, advised the dipping of the new born infant into sale (attle sale) hot water, which while ft has a tendency to make it grow strong and healthy, at the same time wantes the superfluors moisture of the brain and creates in it a disposition witty; whereas a bath of hot spring water would be followed by a dullness of wis, a failure of ourage, and other file not to be mentioned

The salt must be of the finest quality, for PLATO mys that salt not only gives relish and pleasure to the palate, but gives also a superfor power to man, and be says that if the salt unfortunately loses its more, there is nothing left in the world to supply to state All other things made use of by near i this world have their deputy, if we may so call it (we use the language of the philosopher) when they chance to fall, but salt alone stands to the one for which it was ordained. For if we want wheaten bread, there is barlov bread, and eve and Indian. and if wine fails us, there is beer, cider and New England and if we are deficient in woven stuffs we may full back on skins; and so, if we should rul through other things, it will be found that there is a supply for every defect mit alone excepted which was intended alone for the use to widel we per it. SECTION AND ADDRESS. THE SUBSCRIBERS would call the attention of the public to a new and beautiful Metal-lie Burial Case of form and simps to second with He Barial Case of form and simple to second with the feelings of the incentrad, not formished in intertation of polished rosewood. These Cases being made air tight, each agin is prevented, and the process of decomposition arrasted for a long time. This is of great advantage when it is desirable to preserve the ramains of a decoased friend for a considerable time, or to transport the same to a distant place for applichage, or where it is necessary to entomb for a few months before the final burial. They can be seen at our Farnitars Rooms, No 19 Franklin Street.

Illumination! Paraffine Oil!

Every house, factory, shop or office in town or country may be lighted more brilliantly and more economically by saing Panaryrise Last Out, thus by any other Oil, Cam-phene, Burning Fintle, or even Gas treets. Parafiles Oil, to use, is as cleantly as fluid, is not explosive, gives a more brilliant light, and is more economical than any other oil.

The comparative cost of an equal amount of light from various Oils and Fluid at their respective retail prices is shown in the following table, prepared by Mr. Edward N. Kent, a leading analytical and practical chemist of New York, who says :— "Parafine Oil gives a brilliant and dazeling light, does not ignite when a lighted match is placed directly in the oil, does not resinify by expoure te the air, and consequently does not gum the wick, and may be entirely consumed in a lamp without depreciation in the quantity or quality of the light," &c.

Burning Fluid,

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 10, 1887.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the present week the Aquidneck Agricultural Society held their annual Fair and Cattle Shee on their grounds in Middletown, and with good success, grounds in Middletown, and with good success, although we have to imment the want of interestin a display of this kind on the part of many who can and should lend it their support. The Society, as a body, has done nobly; the farmers of the Liand liberally responded to the call of those who took the initiative, subscribed for and sided in the creation of a suitable building and purchased and enclosed a lot of land sufficient in size for all the purchased and enclosed a lot of land sufficient in size for all the purchased. oses of a display of catile, horses, &c.; and, not sausing here, they have rearly contributed to the shibition the products of their land and the finest of the stock they have raised; but there the interat least so far as the collecting together articles Of fine finits the display was very small, and the we could discover in the way of fruit or vegetables from the gardens in this city which are under the Immediate care of professional gardeners. This of the Society there was a generous display from has been any falling off in this particular. But for all this there was some very fine fruit on the tables ton; and here and there a specimen from the orphards of the Middletown and Portsmouth farm orn. The year is a bad one for apples, the speciens exhibited were fine, however, and we noticed Yew very fine peaches grown in Portsmouth and Trerton, and we could not but regret that the market cannot be supplied with an abundance of this delicious feult. Grapes this year have failed to sipen in the open air, and there were no specimens worth noticing brought forward, but of pears there

Of vegerables there was also a limited supply, onslating in part of specimens of squashes, potatree, ontone, tamips, the Kohl Rabi, with here and hops, and specimens of the Chinese Sugar Cane and in the same room with these fruits of the soil, were displayed implements of culture in the form Improved plows, cultivators, forks, rakes, hors, And on the upper floor specimens of fancy work contributed by the ladies daguerrectypes, pictures and picture frames, flowers, single and in bunches, &c., &c., -quite a collection in all, but the the grounds who rook a lively interest in all that Marthined to this department.

In the pens on the grounds we saw a fine display d sheep-sheep that Rhode Island has long been ous for raising, and better specimens could not well be collected. Of swine, too, there was an excellent show, but for park we have not half the which that we have for good Rhode Island matten, we passed from the granters to the chicken cops, to which our attention was directed by the int crowing, and the laughter of the children was well filed, the birds were in excellent condition, and the exhibitors vouths, we believe, generally, deserve much credit for their success in rearing the varieties Beyond the coops were ranged in order the cows, calves and bulls on exhibition, and he air with their notes, and we gave some of the there of the flocks a wide berth, although they Fore well secured to stakes driven into the ground.

Of working outrie our farmors can always make a one show, and on the grounds, formed in one connuous line, there was at one time one hundred and fifty pairs, murching in procession. Then there as a display of borses a trial of strength (oven terwine a louded earth a plong bing mutch and an ho, though no farmer, well knows how to address for his subject "The Dignity of Labor." It is peneral circulation, those of our readers who were not account will have a better opportunity of bethan they could possibly have done in such a crowd. And here we must leave the exhibition for the present. In a short time the judges will hand in reports, which we shall lay before our readers in their proper order, and while we congratulate the farmers of the island on the success of the labors to the attention of the public, hoping that eners will be a more general response on the part of producers when another year affords them an opportunity to compete in so noble a contest for

We have to percent the death of W. Thouas ROBBER, who expired on Tuesday morning at the advanced age of ninety-two years. His life was one of usefulness, and although his strength was impaired by a severe illness some thirty years ago, he still continued to do for others who were in need of his services, almost up to the close of his long life. To the sick he was devoted and in his hands they never lacked for attention or a kind and affectionste word, and with all the old families of the pince he had been intimately associated in his day. On after another be had seen depart, and the eyes of con, father, grandfather and great grandfather he had closed after death, till now the band of affecclos from been called upon to perform the same case for him. Of the events of the past he loved so talk, and in the last conversation we had with bim, but two weeks ago, he said that when he first knew New York, the kospital on Broadway was then out in the country, and there was but one ferry house, and it was the same with regard to Jersey city. Many events in the Revolution he re membered, and he had the best knowledge of any one of the various changes that this city has undergone during the past three-quarters of a century ; remaining clear in regard to everything shat had transpired, until within a few years of his death, when it evidently failed to hold recent impressions. He was a member of the Society of United Bretheren, and from early life was a devous carnest obvistion, at all times expressing an abiding mich in the leve of Christ. Peacefully he lived. pencefully be died.

Lupichous Mistares.—A gentleman who recently left an instern city for New York, to be united in marriage with a young and charming lady of that city, stopped for a day in Beston, to make some additions to his outfit. Arrived at one of our hotels, great was his dismay at finding that imstead of his own frunk, containing his wedding suit, another had been substituted, in all respects like his own, but fillied with patient medicines, tooth eaches and the parapherualia of an itinerant pediar, all perhaps of a certain value, but not at all sitted to his immediate needs. Not being willing to be furumbered with such tresh, he gave a description of his own beagage to several milroud and steamboot agents, and went on his way to New York. On his arrival by steam boat in that city, he was struck by the oppearance of a trunk at the landing, which proved to be it want of an owner, and impressed with its similarity to his own, he caused it to be conveyed to his hotel, delignied with the prospect of being able to present himself at heat in suitable active. The greatest preservative of beauty known to modern effect, is Fret Wood's Hair Restorative and Commetication, is Fret Wood's Hair Restorative and Commetication, is fret wood in the most important features of female beauty, are a hazarjeer head of hair and a fine complexion; but of which should be guarded as sacred treasurers, for either may be feet an neglect, or preserved by the use of the above manest article; delay is dangerous. We seldom undertake, editorially to endeave what are caired 'this Restoratives,' as knowning thill well that the great majority of such preparations are entirely worthless. Exceptions there are, newthoders and among these we have never heeltated to express our conviction that the article known as 'Wood's Restorative's against the article known as 'Wood's Restorative's against the article has told its own story in numberless instances of prematurely gray and half heads and the certificates in regard to its amazing effects have been after numerous, unsofielfed and complatio. When sentences of the United States and others, (of the highest stamiling, socially and politically) openly declare that Wood's Bair Restorative and none than all that it prestorable to be we cannot do otherwise than before them. The article can be had at all our Druggists.—Rahway Republican.

FOR SALE The heirs of the late Gideon Peckham, for Middletown, will be sold on reasonable terms and possession given immediately, if required, on application to either of the subscribers. The fain, is situated on the east shore of the island, partly in Middletown and partly in Portsmouth. It contains one hundred and fourteen serse, old measure, and will be sold at a price that will make it an object for agricultural purposes. The soil is rich, the land is free from stone, and the lots are all hundsomely laid off and secure y walled. There is also a thrifty or that d in good bearing order, a large dwelling house, barne, cribs, &c. It is easy of access both by land and water, and its chore privileges are unourpassed. The water front is about one hundred rods, where giavel from the finest to the coarest can be procured in untolid quantities, and there is also a large quarry of building stones, easily worked and in xhaustible. The prospect from, every part of the larm is delightful. To the north the view extends to Mount Mope Bay and on the south it, takes in a wide range over the southern portion of the island and the ocean. For building sites it could be turned to good account, and to divide it isto building

Mesers, J. Burnett & Co.—I cannot refuse to state the sal-ntary effect in my own aggravated case, of your ex Hair Off-(Cocoaine) fearful of losing it entirely. The skin upon my head became gradually more and more inflamed, so that I could not touch it without pain. This irritated condition I attributed to the been told contained camphone spirit.

By the advice of my physician, to whom you had shown your process of purifying the Coon Nut Oll, I commenced its use the last work in June. The first application allayed the Itching and jer tation; in three or four days the reduces and tenderness disappeared; the hair ceases to fall, and I have now a thick growth of new hair. I trust that others shullarly afflicted will be induced to try the same remedy,

TO THOSE WHO WANT FARMS A FARM WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERY

THE RIDGEWAY: FARM COMPANY has made arrangements by which all who desire to settle or purchase a house can do se.

The Farms consist of the best limestone soil of the most superior quality for farming, in a rapidly improving place, in which an extensive smigration is now pouring. The property is located in Elk County, Founzylvania, in the midst of a triving population of some 10,000. The climate is persectly be although an abundance of the best quality Cont and Iron. The price to buy it out is from $1 to $20 per acre, payable by manilments, to be located at the time of purchasing, or a share of $5 acres cettiling to locate the same for $2000, payable $2 per month or 12 le2 acres payable $2 per month. Discount for every sum of $100 and under, and in actuace, a discount of 10 per cent.

In considering the advantages of emigrating to this locality the following are presented:

Fract—The soil is a rich limestone, capable o raising the heaviest crops, owing to which this settlement has attained its present great prospective.

Success—It is the centre of the great North West Coal Basin and is advanted to the present great prospective.

Success—It is the centre of the great lake market, (according to population and in advantages in the State. It will supply the great take market, (according to population and travet the greatest in the Union)—It has two workable velous of the best Bittenmous Coal, amounting in the aggregate to over $2 feet, which makes $2,000 tone of coal mader each acre. This will make the land of inestimable value.

THE NEW JERSEY PERTILIZER COMPANY IS NOW D pared to receive orders for this important manur For all lands upon which ashes are beneficial the Mari For all lands upon which ashes are beneficial the Mari is more than a substitute.

Proof. Occi in his Annual Report to the Logislature of New Jersey says: "the value of these Maris is best seen in the rich and highly cultivated district which has been improved, almost made, by their use; but it may be interesting to examine the causes of their great value in Agriculture, and to compare them with other fertilizers. For example: The potash alone may be taken at an average of two per cent. of the whole weight of the Mari, a bushed when dry weighing eighty pounds, and in the proportion mentioned would contain four pounds of potash; this is nearly as much as there is no abushed of univacioned would ashes." And again—it is probable that the great value of the Mari is to be found in the fact that it contains nearly all the substances necessary to make up the sach of our common cultivated plants.

Price, delivered on board vessed at the wharves of the Company at Portland Beights on Baritan Bay, New Jersay, even cents per bushed. For further particulars, see circulars, sent free of postage. Orders for other fertilizers will receive premupt attention.
